THESE 10 BOSTON HOTELS WILL HAVE YOU SINGING THE PRAISES OF BEANTOWN

From a Beacon Hill former prison to a Back Bay grand dame, here's where to rest your head.

The Envoy Hotel

from $569 per night, priceline.com

The up-and-coming Seaport District now has a trendy boutique hotel to call its own. Rooms are done up with mid-century modern chairs and TV stands fashioned from vintage bicycle frames, the Outlook Kitchen + Bar has a surf-and-turf menu, and the rooftop Lookout bar is a hotspot serving local brews like Bent Water and Lord Lobo.
